A close up of Death shows he is putting a strand of dead Christmas lights on the Christmas Bush.

DEATH

(Subtitled)

Hello! Join us for a very special Christmas themed episode of Carbon Dating!

When he pulls away from the lights, they come on. He goes to adjust them and they turn off again. When he realizes there seems to be a connection to his proximity, he scratches his head and looks confused. He reaches out to them and again, they turn off. Cut to a wide shot to reveal Maya looking confused and plugging and unplugging the strand of Christmas lights while facing away from the Christmas Bush and trying to figure out what the plug is for. Meanwhile Death is still confused and scratching his head because he can't figure out why the lights keep dying.

(Subtitled)

I hate Christmas lights.
